Trailing arm leading edge

A12 flyover traffic: Redbridge circles it, warily; wagon-train of taxis; container trucks grind to bright blue scaffolding; CAUTION flyover concrete waterproofing in progress; shoot miles and miles of wire fencing

Leyton two miles (61 mins)

a mini-digger humps the bank, hymn books flip-flap into the subway (closed). Builders w/hoods-up and security talk-up, walk in time to road-gospel-psalms; a future Premier Inn tower as 50k speaker stack

What's a provisional licence?

legalised traffic; slow heartbeat now a padded stamp; ink drying on legal paper; a dirty dossier - close shaves in deep sleep around this tarmac aorta; we're mapping neurons; brain stutters reflections in a bus window

Tin-foil ties memory pills camera obscura over candid phase; phrasing by exhaust pipe, big-end: turbo whine; concrete shuttering community diffused; a trip, we snap digital steals w/cameras on 100 foot high poles; radio wave horizon

Constant paper interruptions leaves on steps choke towards George Green and The Tree; lo-fi micro-narratives legalised by Royal Mail delivery (a couple a days late, sorry mate); Ringways // East Cross Routing; roadsigns thrusting diagonals
